OVERVIEW

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Since opening, Hong Kong Disneyland has consistently launched innovative attractions and entertainment offerings, including “it’s a small world,” Art of Animation, Animation Academy and the Flights of Fantasy Parade. The resort also opened Toy Story Land in 2011, Grizzly Gulch in 2012 and Mystic Point in 2013, which is home to one of the most sophisticated trackless ride systems ever built by Disney. The resort unveiled the first-of-its-kind “Disney Paint the Night” parade in 2014, a technologically advanced wonder with more than 740,000 LED lights.

In 2015, the resort lifted the curtain on “Mickey and the Wondrous Book” and Fairy Tale Forest - Presented by PANDORA. These were followed by the “Star Wars: Tomorrowland Takeover” in 2016, featuring Hyperspace Mountain, Star Wars: Command Post and Jedi Training: Trials of the Temple.

In January 2017, the first Marvel-themed ride in a Disney park opened. Iron Man Experience – Presented by AIA allows guests to fight against the forces of evil alongside Iron Man across the streets and skies of Hong Kong. Guests can also have a heroic encounter with Iron Man at the Iron Man Tech Showcase – Presented by Stark Industries and virtually try on his iconic armor in the interactive game, Become Iron Man at the Stark Expo. The resort continues to grow as Marvel’s Asia epicenter.

April 2017 saw the opening of the resort’s third hotel, Disney Explorers Lodge, an exotic getaway destination that invites guests to explore the distinctive cultures of Africa, Asia, Oceania and South America during their stays. It has 750 rooms, bringing the resort’s total to 1,750. In July 2018, Duffy’s newest friend, a girl puppy and food lover, Cookie, made her global debut at the resort. Since Duffy’s first appearance in 2010, he and his friends have become very popular among guests from the region.

In early 2018, the resort opened the “We Love Mickey” Projection Show and an African-themed Karibuni Marketplace with interactive games and exclusive souvenirs. A multi-year expansion kicks off at the park in May 2018 with the opening of “Moana: A Homecoming Celebration,” an atmosphere stage show featuring the latest Disney heroine. More new offerings will debut at HKDL through 2023 as part of the expansion, including a new Marvel-themed attraction, “Ant-Man and The Wasp: Nano Battle!”, an entire Marvel-themed area; and an immersive area based on the beloved world of Frozen. As the park’s centerpiece, the castle will also be completely transformed to pay tribute to the Disney Princesses and will feature a new daytime show and nighttime spectacular.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

Hong Kong has experienced substantial economic development attributable to Hong Kong Disneyland. In financial year 2017, the resort generated approximately HK$8.3 billion (around US$1.1 billion) of value added to Hong Kong, equivalent to around 0.33 percent of Hong Kong Gross Domestic Product. In addition to the 7,000 Cast Members employed, a total of 17,800 jobs (in terms of man-years) were also created in financial year 2017, benefiting the city’s workforce in the travel and hospitality industry.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Following in The Walt Disney Company’s tradition of service, Hong Kong Disneyland Resort has devoted considerable resources—both in-kind support and volunteer hours—to improving the community.

In financial year 2017, Disney VolunTEARS contributed over 8,000 hours of service from Disney VolunTEARS and welcomed more than 100,000 underprivileged community members to the park. In addition to numerous ongoing programs with NGOs, the resort started the 10K Weekend Presented by AIA Vitality to promote healthy outdoor activities and the “YOUth Power” program promoting sports and creativity among disadvantaged children.

THE ENVIRONMENT

Hong Kong Disneyland Resort’s extensive environmental initiatives include energy efficiency efforts, “green” purchasing, greenhouse gas reduction, water conservation, waste reduction and recycling in the hotels and park. Our efforts also include donation of surplus food to the needy in the community and awareness programs for guests and Cast Members.
